

Announcement of International Meeting IM2019 in the Netherlands

The 25th International Meeting of Collectors of Historical Calculating Instruments (IM2019) will be held from September 20th to 22nd, 2019, at the Badhotel in Scheveningen -- the seaside resort of The Hague, which is the government residence of the Netherlands.

The theme of IM2019 is “Calculators on the Beach” – but note that this theme is not meant to limit the subjects of lectures and discussions to “sandy” slide rules only; participants are invited to present papers on any kind of historical calculating instruments.

IM2019, the seventh IM in the Netherlands, will be organized in the same manner as our previous IM’s: a carefully selected venue, professional organization, interesting presentations from participants, a quality proceedings book, displays of rare calculators – e.g. new One-Off’s and a near complete ALRO collection.

The Hague has some famous museums, such as the Mauritshuis, Panorama Mesdag, the Escher museum, and many others.

A number of tourist excursions in Scheveningen and The Hague are being organized - also of special interest for partners of the IM2019 participants.

For more information, see the website of the Dutch KRING at www.rekeninialen.org/english.htm

We hope to meet you at IM2019 in Scheveningen !!!
