

Request for Articles

We invite and encourage you to send us an article for the Journal of the Oughtred Society (JOS). Articles can be on any aspect of slide rules, slide charts, mechanical calculators, other calculating devices, people, collecting, models, manufacturers, operation, uses, history, mathematics, information for beginners, or whatever interests you in connection with the Oughtred Society.

Articles can be brief or extensive, elementary or technical. The Journal depends on members to write articles for publication. We encourage you to participate by submitting articles. Guidelines and templates are available at <http://www.oughtred.org/journal.shtml>.

The JOS editorial team consists of Managing Editor David Sweetman, with a skilled team to do formatting, layout, editing, and proofreading. After your draft is revised, you will have the opportunity to make further improvements.

Articles should be submitted by 1 November for possible inclusion in the Spring JOS issue or by 1 May for the Fall JOS issue. Please send your draft article to David Sweetman at david_for_os@att.net.
