Who's Who in the Oughtred Society David Sweetman is Editor of the Journal of the Oughtred Society. He oversees all activities needed to produce the Journal biannually, including coordinating with Associate Editor Otto van Poelje, seven Assistant Editors, and our Layout Editor, all of whom are hard working member volunteers.

Among David's duties are gathering articles from member authors; communicating with authors; final editing of articles; creating and maintaining Guidelines for Authors, Editor Guidelines, Journal Layout Guidelines, JOS Plus Guidelines, and the Journal Annual Publication Schedule that includes dates for the many steps needed to produce the Journal. In his thorough and methodical manner, David has reduced to writing all steps and standards required to produce two JOS issues annually. We are fortunate to have a member as talented as David who is willing to devote untold hours to producing the Journal.
